Ohtel, Do Tell

By Tiffany Hawk

Ohtel is a 10-room boutique hotel located in the Oriental Bay area of Wellington, the nation's capital. The hotel is next to the city's central business district, with theaters and restaurants within less than a half a mile, and Te Papa, the national museum, just 1,000 feet away. The design of the hotel is inspired by the Danish Modern school, with pieces in rooms and public areas designed by such luminaries as Arne Jacobsen. Each of the 10 rooms follows one of three color schemes: cool blue, rich brown and fresh green. The centerpiece of each room is the bathroom, which implements features like two-person tubs, large panels of glass and natural local toiletries. Accommodations are available in deluxe rooms, studios and suites. Ohtel 66 Oriental Parade Wellington, 6011 New Zealand 011-+64-4-803-0600 ohtel.com
